WHERE WILL THE

THE know-all North ... the mediocre Midlands ... the soft South ... accusations to make the true football fan's blood boil.
But how true are these statements?
Well, the 'Northern' domination in the League honours list — thanks mainly to Liverpool and Manchester United — would suggest fans in the North have a good reason to crow.
Apart from their good record in the League Cup, teams from the Midlands do lag behind their counterparts in the North and South.
And Southern teams can only really pride themselves in the FA Cup competition.
But who will have the last laugh this season? Here we attempt to find out by asking three players in the know ...

NORTH

Graeme Souness

Liverpool's Scottish international midfielder on the League Championship.

MIDLANDS

Mel Eves

The Wolves' front-runner takes a look at the League Cup.

SOUTH

Alvin Martin

West Ham's young defender talks about the FA Cup.

HONOURS GO?

THREE clubs pose the major threat to Liverpool's bid for their third successive First Division title – but Arsenal aren't one of them, says Graeme Souness.

"Aston Villa, Ipswich and Nottingham Forest can be regarded as the main danger, but I don't believe Arsenal are consistently good enough to win the championship.

"They could have a big say in deciding where the title goes by taking points off the main teams.

"But they are more or less the same team, working to the same system as last season, but without Liam Brady.

"Ipswich, if they can keep up the performances they have shown so far and avoid too many injuries, will be there at the end, as will Forest.

"Aston Villa? It's hard to say," said Souness, who was speaking on the eve of Liverpool's top of the table clash with the Midlands pace-setters.

"I haven't even seen them on TV, but their record shows they have been playing well. In the end perhaps a weakness in depth might tell against them, though they have shown none yet.

"It's silly at this stage of the season – we're not even half-way yet – to say that Liverpool are definitely going to win it again.

"Winning titles is all about good players and playing to a correct system laid down by the coaches.

"We have good players, a good system and good coaches. We'll be in there at the end," he said, with the confidence of a man who knows that whoever wants to take the trophy away from Anfield will have to clamber rough-shod over red shirts to get at it!

LEAGUE CHAMPIONS SINCE THE WAR

LIVERPOOL (1946-47, 1963-64, 1965-66, 1972-73, 1975-76, 1976-77, 1978-79, 1979-80); ARSENAL (1947-48, 1952-53, 1970-71); PORTSMOUTH (1948-49, 1949-50); SPURS (1950-51, 1960-61); MANCHESTER UNITED (1951-52, 1955-56, 1956-57, 1964-65, 1966-67); WOLVES (1953-54, 1957-58, 1958-59); CHELSEA (1954-55); BURNLEY (1959-60); IPSWICH (1961-62); EVERTON (1962-63, 1969-70); MANCHESTER CITY (1967-68); LEEDS (1968-69, 1973-74); DERBY (1971-72, 1974-75); NOTTINGHAM FOREST (1977-78).

1 – NORTHERN TEAMS 20 wins
2 – SOUTHERN TEAMS 8 wins
3 – MIDLANDS TEAMS 7 wins

West Bromwich Albion are tipped to keep the League Cup in the Midlands for the eighth successive season.

And the man backing Albion is none other than Mel Eves of regional rivals Wolves – the current holders.

If Mel's hunch is correct it will mean the League Cup won't have left the Midlands since Spurs won it in season 1972-73.

Says Mel: "I must admit I fancy West Brom to go all the way to Wembley and win as long as they get the right breaks. They are putting the results together.

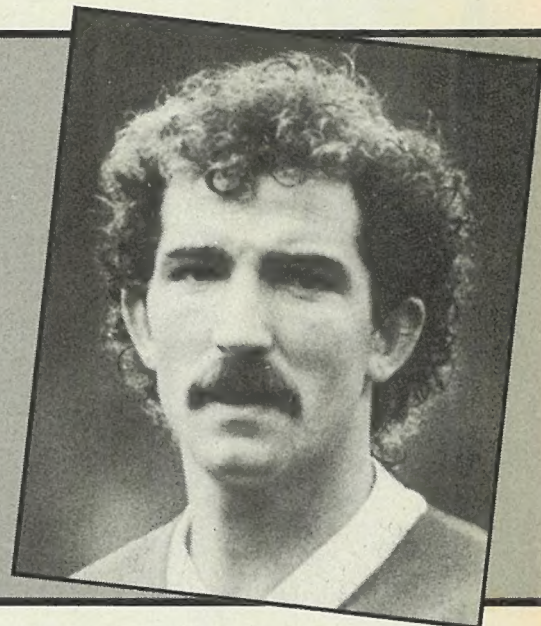

"And I fancy Birmingham have a good chance of beating Liverpool in a replay if they can get a draw at Anfield."

Mel's other tips are Watford to beat Coventry and Spurs to beat West Ham.

"It really is all about raising your game on the day in the cup, whereas you have to do it week in, week out to win the League.

"I'm a firm believer in the old saying: 'if your name's on the cup you'll win it'.

"Looking back on last season when we won the cup I think the turning point was Kenny Hibbitt's 90th minute goal which earned us a draw against Q.P.R. in the fourth-round tie at Loftus Road.

"You need to get those little breaks."

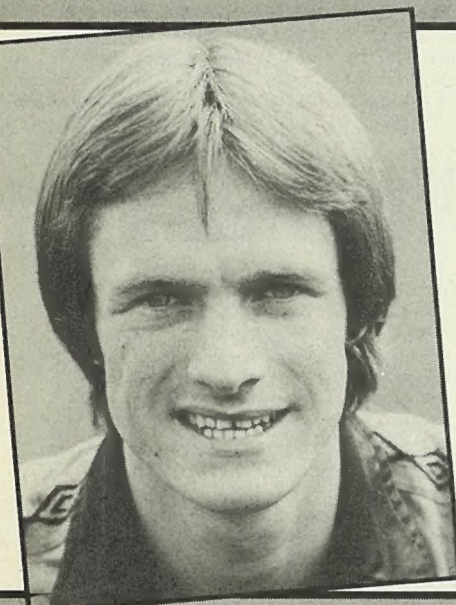

Wolves went out of the competition this season at the hands of Cambridge United in the two-leg second round.

Reflecting on that Mel added: "When you come up against a smaller club you are on a hiding to nothing because you are expected to win".

LEAGUE CUP WINNERS (SINCE COMPETITION WAS ESTABLISHED IN 1960-61)

ASTON VILLA (1960-61, 1974-75, 1976-77); NORWICH (1961-62); BIRMINGHAM (1962-63); LEICESTER (1963-64); CHELSEA (1964-65); WEST BROM (1965-66); QPR (1966-67); LEEDS (1967-68); SWINDON (1968-69); MANCHESTER CITY (1969-70, 1975-76); SPURS (1970-71, 1972-73); STOKE (1971-72); WOLVES (1973-74, 1979-80); FOREST (1977-78, 1978-79).

1 – MIDLAND TEAMS 12 wins
2 – SOUTHERN TEAMS 5 wins
3 – NORTHERN TEAMS 3 wins

West Ham defender Alvin Martin picks Liverpool – the team he once worshipped from the terraces – as the major threat in Hammers' defence of the FA Cup.

"You've got to fancy them. There's not too many teams that can beat them on their day," declared Alvin. "You could name so many teams at this stage, but I think Aston Villa could be a good bet and Arsenal always do well in whatever cup competition they play in".

West Ham themselves certainly come into that category and Alvin warns:

"This season our squad is that bit stronger. We still have class players in people like Trevor Brooking, Alan Devonshire and Billy Bonds, but our younger players have learned a lot – myself included."

But what does it take to become a Wembley winner? "The draw is always very important. We beat Aston Villa at our place last season, but I'm sure it would have been a much more difficult game at Villa Park," said Alvin.

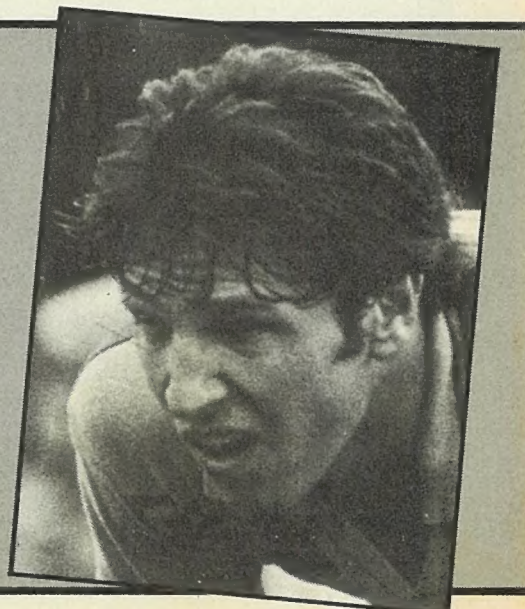

"Injuries are not as big a blow in the cup as they are in the League because unless they are really serious a player has time to get over his injury before the next round, but ideally you want a fully fit side for each tie.

"Any team – whether it be Liverpool or Barnsley – has a chance in a cup tie. That's what makes the competition so exciting."

FA CUP WINNERS SINCE THE WAR

DERBY (1945-46); CHARLTON (1946-47); MANCHESTER UNITED (1947-48, 1962-63, 1976-77); WOLVES (1948-49, 1959-60); ARSENAL (1949-50, 1970-71, 1978-79); NEWCASTLE (1950-51, 1951-52, 1954-55); BLACKPOOL (1952-53); WEST BROM (1953-54, 1967-68); MANCHESTER CITY (1955-56, 1968-69); ASTON VILLA (1956-57); BOLTON (1957-58); NOTTINGHAM FOREST (1958-59); SPURS (1960-61, 1961-62, 1966-67); WEST HAM (1963-64, 1974-75, 1979-80); LIVERPOOL (1964-65, 1973-74); EVERTON (1965-66); CHELSEA (1969-70); LEEDS (1971-72); SUNDERLAND (1972-73); SOUTHAMPTON (1975-76); IPSWICH (1977-78).

1 – NORTHERN TEAMS 15 wins
2 – SOUTHERN TEAMS 13 wins
3 – MIDLANDS TEAMS 8 wins

Youth booster

SCOTLAND'S football future looks to be in good hands judging by the smiles on the faces of Aberdeen's Neil Cooper (left) and Scott McGarvey of Manchester United.

British Caledonian Airways have agreed to inject £100,000 over the next three years into a Scottish FA national youth coaching scheme and model Fiona Best — sounds an appropriate soccer name — came along for our camera to promote the plan. More than 1,000 youngsters have taken part in the scheme this year, under coaching director Andy Roxburgh.

In the last four years, Scotland's youth team has lost only four of its 36 matches — 30 of them on foreign soil — and they are determined to maintain their high standard.

New faces

STEVE Coppell (Manchester United), Paul Hart (Leeds) and Peter Mellor, Portsmouth's goalkeeper captain, have been elected to the committee of the players Union, the PFA.

They join Alan Gowling (Bolton), the new chairman in succession to Gordon Taylor, who will become assistant secretary, Bob Latchford (Everton), Lammie Robertson (Bradford), John Hollins (Arsenal) and John Duncan (Derby).

One of their first jobs is to call for a summit of football authorities to thrash out some of the player's ideas for 'saving' soccer.

These include:

- A change in the system for assessing referees.
- An eight-point booking for a 'professional foul' — half way between the current red and yellow card penalties.
- Restriction on the import of overseas players from outside Common Market countries — the PFA believes the influx is losing their members jobs.

Boss boom

DO Darlington and Walsall realise that they are locked in a sort of "race" that neither will want to win?

They can't be exactly overjoyed to know that they lead all the other 90 Football League clubs in having had the most postwar managers, with 17 each at the latest count.

Watford for Wembley!

WATFORD can go all the way to Wembley — and maybe even win the League Cup!

Who says so? None other than England skipper Kevin Keegan, whose own Southampton were dumped out of the competition in that second round 7-1 thrashing at Vicarage Road.

Kevin played in the first leg of that memorable tie when Saints strolled into a seemingly unassailable 4-0 lead.

"I was injured for the second leg but I couldn't believe they were the same side."

"If they are drawn at home throughout the competition they are going to take a hell of a lot of beating. Their away form is poor but they're a different outfit at Vicarage Road.

"They can beat anyone there. Their kick and run style catches First Division teams out.

"Big Ross Jenkins is a handful up front, Luther Blissett is very quick and I like Ray Train. He's very under-rated.

"It's always feasible that a Second Division side will get to Wembley. Watford have a great chance."

Watford bid for a place in the semi-finals when they meet Coventry on Wednesday. See Paul Stratton's League Cup predictions later in this issue.

MATCH WEEKLY

Indoor stars

THERE were some familiar names kicking off in the new North American indoor six-a-side season last week, among them . . . George Best (San Jose), Ron Futcher (Minnesota Kicks), Billy Caskey and Vic Moreland (Tulsa Roughnecks), Clyde Best (Portland Timbers).

KID BROTHER

DES BREMNER, a key member of table toppers, Aston Villa, is keeping a close eye on the fortunes of his younger brother, Kevin, who has now moved South of the border to join Colchester United. Kevin cost the Third Division club a record £20,000 from the Highland League outfit, Keith.

Hat-trick club

WHY don't Bob Latchford (Everton), Mike Channon (Southampton), Alan Buckley (Walsall) and Colin Garwood (Aldershot) form a kind of "club" all their own?

They may not know it, but they happen to be the only current players who have hit hat-tricks at one time or another in all three national competitions — the Football League and in both F.A. and League Cups.

Long and the short of it

FOOTBALL League playing pitches vary considerably in size. The longest of all is that at Northampton at 120 yards, and the shortest are those of as many as 19, all of which are 110 yards. The widest: Hereford United and Orient at 80 yards in each case; the narrowest: four at 70 yards each.

Super Cup return for Francis?

TREVOR Francis could make his return to top class football in Spain after all!

Shortly after suffering an achilles injury at the end of last season, Trevor's name was linked with Spanish club Barcelona in a £3 million move from Nottingham Forest, but the deal fell through.

Now the England international is set to return to Spain for his big time comeback in Forest's Super Cup second leg against Valencia — the annual challenge between the European Champions and Cup Winners' Cup holders on December 17.

All the comments made after Trevor's practice match return point towards a comeback before Christmas and for sure his manager would prefer to ease him back in to the fold away from the glare of publicity.

Though he claims he hasn't set himself any targets, the will-o'-the-wisp striker says: "I've been stepping up my training and plan to get as many matches as possible behind me before the big day.

"I don't get paid to play in the reserves or 'A' team and I know that the real test has to come when I go back in the first team.

"I was very disappointed that we lost in the European Cup to CSKA Sofia. I was really looking forward to playing in the competition this year," said Francis, whose goal earned Forest their first European crown in 1979.

But now he may get a second chance in Europe with the visit to Valencia, triumphant over Arsenal in a dramatic Cup Winners' Cup Final penalty decider last May.

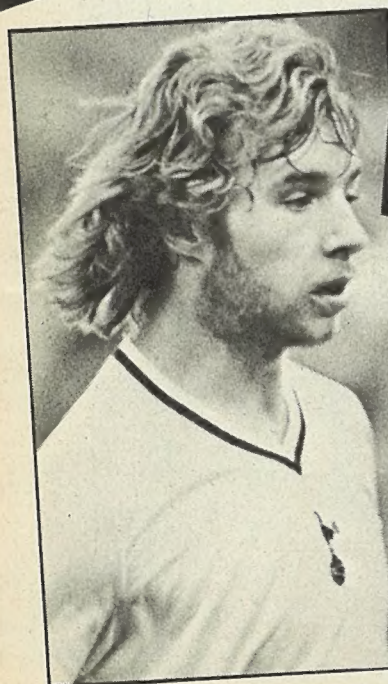

He is likely to come up against the hard man Botubot but will also be able to measure his skills against Argentina's World Cup hero Mario Kempes, now enjoying the freedom of a deep-lying attacking role.

Valencia suffered a shock CWC exit at the hands of East Germans Carl Zeiss Jena.

Praise from Sir Matt

STEVE ARCHIBALD'S successful switch to English football has come as no surprise to soccer's "father-figure" . . . Sir Matt Busby.

After watching the then unknown Archibald playing for Scotland under 21's against England under 21's last February, Busby commented:

"Although he didn't score I was very impressed with Archibald. He's got that very rare ability to make time for himself in tight situations. He reminds me very much of a young Denis Law."

Unbeatable value

THE cover price of your Match Weekly has been increased to 30p from this issue.

Despite our successful efforts to keep the cost down over the past year, spiralling production costs have forced us to make this small increase.

We are sorry to have to do so, but remember that Match still costs less than a third the price of a single record — and less than many football programmes!

And look what you get for your money and we think you will agree that Match provides value second to none.

No other magazine talks to the stars like Match — or provides a results service with star ratings.

And our colour features are unbeatable — as many of you write to tell us.

It's a soccer service that can't be matched — at any price.

What's that? — 1

SPOTTED in West German newspaper 'Bild-Zeitung':

"Nottingham Forest has signed two forwards, Ward (Brighton) and Hove (Albion)." Sounds quite a combination!

What's that? — 2

SPOTTED in the Daily Express recently following cartilage injury fears for Kenny Dalglish:

"The Scot has strained ligaments and should be fit to face Aston Villa at Aintree on Saturday."

No doubt he was jumping for joy about that!

● GARRY BIRTLES — now with Division One rivals Manchester United.

● PETER WITHE — now playing a vital role for title-chasing Villa.

● TONY WOODCOCK — now with Cologne in the West German Bundesliga.

CLOUGH

THE FOREST BOSS TALKS FRANKLY - AS USUAL - IN HIS MONTHLY MATCH WEEKLY COLUMN. IT'S EXCLUSIVE!

anybody — Withe, Tony Woodcock, Steve Elliott, Garry Birtles — who could score a goal or two!

Goalscoring strikers are like gold and although he's never been a great goalscorer Withe got his share for us, including four on one occasion against Ipswich.

Now he's having his share of the limelight in Villa's success. But he still ought to go down on his bended knee and thank Ron Saunders for what he did.

I know, too, what we did for him at Forest after signing him from Birmingham in our Second Division days.

Peter Taylor had always fancied him — and almost took him to Brighton on one occasion — so when the opportunity to buy him for Forest came along, we lived in.

He was a very popular player at the City Ground and it's history now that he helped us win promotion and then the First Division Championship and League Cup.

But soon after that Peter thought he wasn't being paid enough and, while he was in dispute over terms, handed in a transfer request.

Believe it or not, Peter Taylor and I have not been faced with players asking for transfers too many times and the fact that Withe wanted to leave us after sharing in such success did rankle a bit.

Newcastle were interested in signing him and were willing to pay our price, and even though Peter came to see me at a late stage wanting to reconsider, the transfer went through.

Despite his departure from Forest when he was experiencing the most successful spell in his career, there is absolutely no ill-feeling between us.

I liked Peter a lot — his little lad Jason used to be one of my most regular visitors — and I'm delighted that he's having more success with Villa.

NOW see what Match Weekly columnist Gary Shaw has to say about his striking partner Peter Withe later in this issue.

Don't miss it!

Spurs — my tip for the Cup

SPURS are my tip to win the League Cup this season . . . despite their tough away draw at West Ham in the quarter-finals.

The last time the two London rivals met in the competition was in season 1975-76 when Spurs came out 2-0 winners at Upton Park after a 0-0 draw at White Hart Lane.

Tottenham didn't enter the League Cup for the first six seasons but their first ever tie in the competition was in fact against West Ham (in season 1966-67) when the Hammers won 1-0.

So this is the decider.

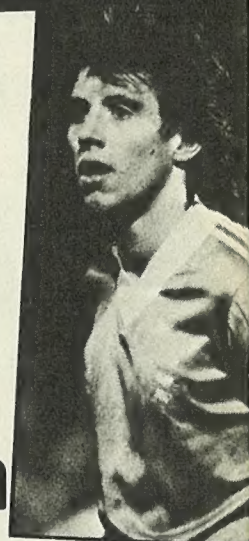

Trevor Cross, four goals for West Ham in the competition so far, is Spurs big danger.

And while my head says West Ham, my heart says Spurs to win.

The Hammers will have to make do with First Division football next season.

● Later in this issue Spurs midfield maestro Glenn Hoddle previews the clash with West Ham in his regular column.

Blues fans can only dream

Right: Keith Bertschin — scored one of the goals when Birmingham beat Liverpool at Anfield.

LIVERPOOL, bidding to win the League Cup for the first time, must now overcome Birmingham . . . the last side to win at Anfield.

That now famous victory occurred on January 21, 1978.

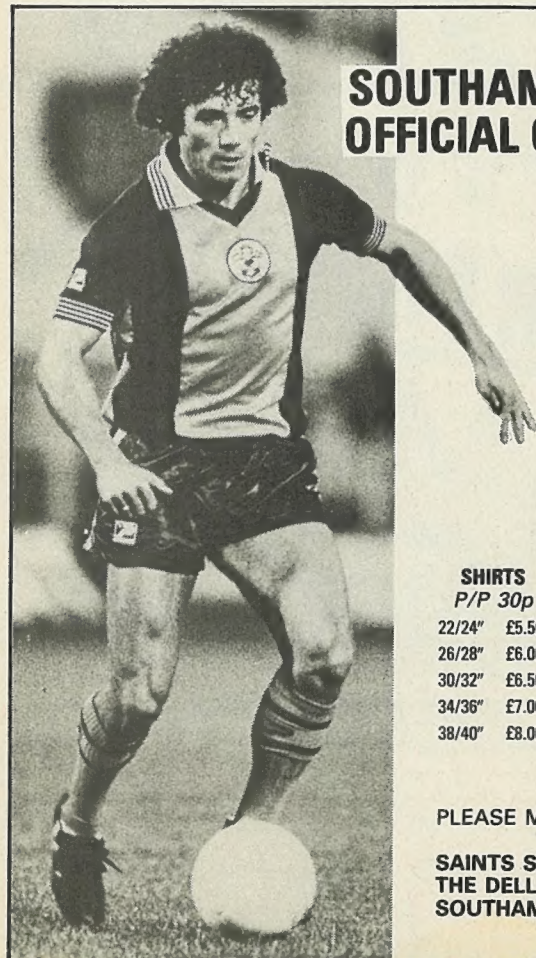

In front of 48,000 fans, goals from Gary Emmanuel, Keith Bertschin and finally a Trevor Francis penalty gave Birmingham a 3-2 win . . . on the day when Graeme Souness made his home debut!

No club since then has managed to beat Liverpool on their own ground.

So it would be incredible if Birmingham could do it again in what will be the two club's first clash in the League Cup.

Blues' fans can dream I suppose, but it has to be Liverpool's name going into the draw for the semi-finals.

Kenny Dalglish (four goals in the competition so far) and David Johnson (three) pose a formidable threat to the Birmingham defence where Colin Todd has been outstanding.

Goal-crazy Hornets won't sting again

GOAL-CRAZY Watford — responsible for two of the biggest upsets of the soccer season so far — are destined to bow out of the League Cup against Coventry next Wednesday.

And that bold prediction is sure to PLEASE fans of the Second Division side.

Fact is I have written them off in all of the last three rounds . . . and been proved wrong on each occasion.

No way am I going to be blamed for changing their luck!

On paper Coventry don't pose as big a threat to Watford as did Southampton and Nottingham Forest — two of the big guns already stung out of the competition by the Hornets.

And their progress to the quarter finals has been a complete contrast to the cavalier journey of their next opponents.

Coventry defender Paul Dyson has been a major influence in his team's cup run so far and Tommy English is the striker Watford must look to contain as the man most likely to score.

For Watford, mid-fielder Wilf Rostron has been their star man in no less than four of their previous six matches in the League Cup.

Striking partners Luther Blissett and Ross Jenkins have also starred and they are responsible for seven of Watford's 17 goals in the competition so far.

RIGHT: Coventry's Paul Dyson, seen here in a heading duel with Wolves' Andy Gray, has been a revelation at the back for his team in past rounds.

West Brom to end City hopes

WEMBLEY was the venue and the League Cup final the event when Manchester City and West Brom last met in the competition.

That time City came out 2-1 winners thanks to goals from Mick Doyle (now Stoke) and Glyn Pardoe.

The Maine Road side were also victorious in their only other League cup encounter with Albion back in season 1966-67.

The scoreline that day was 4-2.

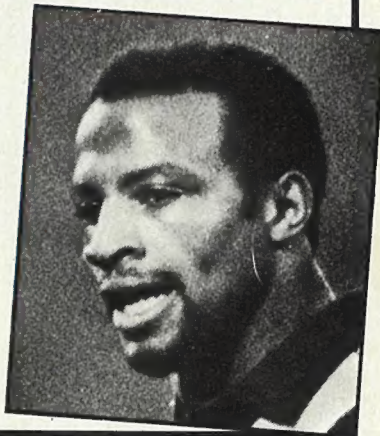

It's time for West Brom to take their revenge and I go for the Midlands side to reach the semi-finals.

Tony Henry, Dave Bennett and Denis Tueart (four goals in the last round) are the three responsible for City's 11 goals in the competition.

But Kevin Reeves has also starred on a couple of occasions.

West Brom have just seven goals to their credit and a lot depends on the form of Cyrille Regis, but I take them to win 2-0.

Above right: Cyrille Regis of West Bromwich Albion, whose two goals finally disposed of gallant Preston North End in the previous round.

The best of six!

Gary Chivers (Chelsea) v Newcastle United, Football League, Division Two, October 25, Stamford Bridge.

THE GOAL which 20-year-old Gary Chivers scored against Newcastle underlined the new found confidence emerging in this exciting Chelsea side.

Though Colin Lee grabbed the match accolades with a superbly taken hat-trick in the 6-0 win, it was Chivers' goal which was hailed the best.

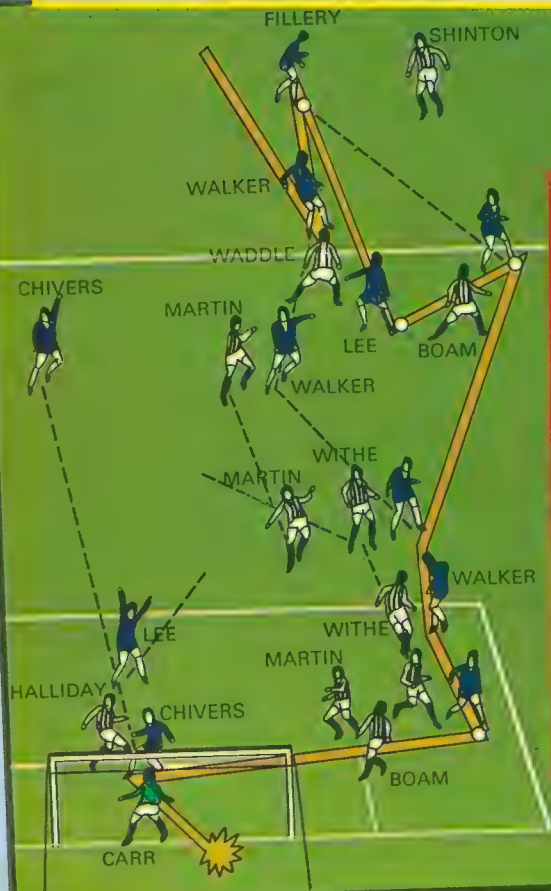

Recalled Gary: "Last year we were playing as individuals. This year we are helping each other and it was this that made the goal the most satisfying of my career."

"I saw John Bumstead nearby and knew he would cover for me if I made a move forward."

"Clive Walker began the move, playing a touch off to Mike Fillery, who played a first time one-two with Colin Lee and then sent Clive away down the left."

"I started to call for it about 40 yards out from goal and when Clive went on the outside of the full-back he looked up and found me perfectly with the cross."

GOLDEN GOAL

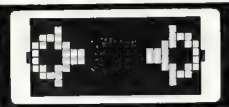

Ecstasy and despair . . . hat-trick hero Colin Lee jubilantly picks up Golden Goal-scorer Gary Chivers as Newcastle skipper Stuart Boam arrives to pick up the pieces!

Salute Pete

PETER WITHE must take a lot of the credit for my goals this season.

He has provided me with some great chances since he joined us from Newcastle in the close season.

There were a lot of times last season when I felt we needed a player of Peter's height and experience in the Villa forward line.

His size means he's always likely to win the ball in the air.

And he's great at knocking it down for me to have a crack at goal.

Added to that he has very good ball control on the ground and he's always quick to spot a scoring chance himself.

I tend to let my head drop sometimes when things are not going so well and having Peter around helps on those occasions too.

He's great at geeing me up!

Reputation

Finishing has always been one of my strongest points. Even at school I had a reputation for being able to put the ball into the back of the net.

And, of course, with the lads at Villa playing very well together as a team it is bound to provide me with excellent scoring chances.

I'm not finding it more difficult to score this season — even though I think it's fair to say I'm being more closely marked.

I think the experience I have gained is helping to combat the extra attention I'm getting.

But early on this season I

Left: Peter Withe — good in the air and on the ground.

Roasted...then I hit three!

VILLA'S match at Bristol City last season is one that I will never forget.

At one stage I was playing so badly that manager Ron Saunders was thinking of pulling me out of the game.

Twenty-minutes later I had scored the first hat-trick of my career!

The boss gave me a right roasting at half time but suddenly everything went right and I had set up a Villa victory.

That afternoon in December has to be the highlight of my short career so far.

We won the game 3-1 and I can still remember all three goals...

The first was from a Gordon Cowans corner. His kick found me on the blind side of goal and I just nodded it into the net.

The second was perhaps the best of my career so far — I picked up a ball from Brian Little in my own half, beat a couple of players and hit the ball from 30 yards. It just shot into the top corner.

My last was quite important because City had just retrieved a goal. Ken McNaught found me with a good pass; I beat a Bristol defender and slotted the ball just inside the near post.

I was given the match ball, signed by the players, and that's one of my most prized possessions.

r the great!

wasn't taking full advantage of the openings being created for me.

Since then I have become more ruthless in the box and the goals have been going in.

And while I haven't set myself any targets I believe most strikers aim to score at least 20 goals in a season.

I've managed to get off to a great start, but I don't believe my general play has been that good and now I'm working hard to improve my all round contribution to the team performance.

THE GARY SHAW STORY

I'll be patient

THERE are so many good young forwards around today that I know I must be patient and wait for my chance of England honours.

I have been a member of the last two England Under-21 squads and that's whetted my appetite for further international honours, to add to my nine youth caps.

I know the onus is on me to turn in good performances and keep scoring the goals.

The biggest disappointment of my career happened while I was representing my country — defeat in the semi-final of the Little World Cup in 1978-79.

We had played so well in the previous rounds. I had scored in each of our three games — and we were the favourites to get through to the final.

It was a terrible anti-climax because we didn't play well and we were beaten 1-0.

Still, playing for my country on foreign soil was a great experience and one that can only help my career.

NEXT WEEK

I shall be telling you about my other sporting love and revealing the name of my favourite player.

I am a Manchester City fan and also like pop music, tennis and cricket. I would like a pen pal of my own age.

Nicholas Frost (15), 43 Mount Pleasant, Cockfosters, Barnet, Herts.

I am a loyal Luton supporter and would like a pen pal who supports anyone — except Watford! I enjoy all sports, especially football and cricket.

Peter Holmes (15), 67 Pipit Rise, Brickhill, Bedford, Beds.

I support Manchester City but I would like a penfriend who follows Cambridge United.

Ian Andrew (15), 12 Delahays Range, Gorton, Manchester.

I am a keen Forest fan and would like a pen pal who lives in the Nottingham area.

Donna Poole (15), 2 Peartree Road, Smethwick, Warley, West Midlands.

I would like a boy pen pal who lives in the Manchester area and supports Manchester United.

Brian Sherry (10), Benevin, Tollinagrunnat, Castle Blaney, Co. Monaghan, Dublin, Eire.

I would like a pen pal of between 12 and 15-years-old who supports Manchester United. My other favourite hobby is swimming and I am also a great fan of Blondie.

Debbie Smith, 27 Ennerdale Close, Wamdon, Worcester.

I am 11-years-old and support Leicester and Liverpool. I would like a pen pal with similar interests.

David Rolleston, 83 Faire Road, Glenfield, Leicester.

Hooliganism? The players can help

PLAYERS themselves could, I believe, do more to help stop hooliganism at our soccer grounds.

Say for instance there is some trouble in the crowd as the teams are warming up before the start of the match.

Maybe it would help if all the players went over to where the fighting was and tried to calm things down.

The troublemakers might just listen to the soccer idols whose names they chant.

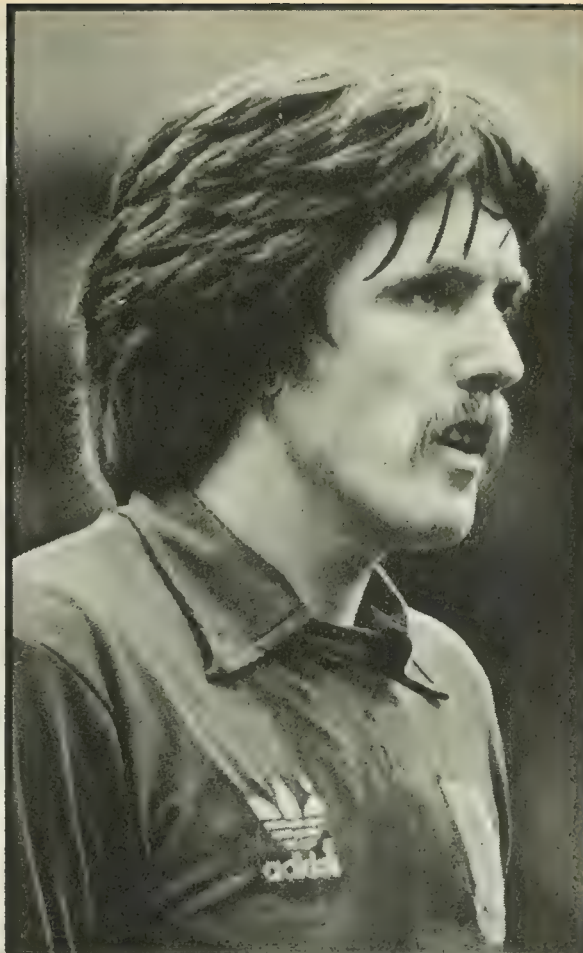

Right: West Ham goalkeeper Phil Parkes: "I think he's brilliant."

GLENN

Looking for a win at Anfield
... after 68 years!

WEST BROM are our opponents in the League at White Hart Lane on Saturday.

On their day they can be a very, very hard side to beat.

They have a number of players who can turn a match — striker Cyrille Regis, winger Peter Barnes and midfielder Bryan Robson to name three.

Albion had a good season the year before last and they look to be back in something like the same rhythm this time around.

The following Saturday it's Liverpool away and their home record is something else.

I am not going to say we will be the first team to beat them since Birmingham did in January, 1978.

Nevertheless we will go to Anfield looking for two points even though it's 68 years since Spurs achieved a win there!

On our last visit a lot of the Liverpool players said we were the best side they had faced that season, even though we lost 2-1.

The year before that however they beat us 7-0. It was unbelievable.

Cross and Goddard are men to watch

ALL the lads at Spurs were in such a determined mood when we played Arsenal in the last round of the League Cup that I could sense we weren't going to get beaten.

It's always nice to win a cup tie, but we were especially pleased after this one because we broke the Arsenal hoodoo.

I think we deserved our 1-0 victory in the end.

In fact we could have won by a bigger margin.

There have been a lot of times when we have played really well against Arsenal but still lost.

Now we have to face West Ham at Upton Park in the quarter-finals next Wednesday.

They are on top of the world at the moment, but life is a lot easier in the Second Division.

You can get too used to playing Second Division sides.

I remember when Spurs were top of the Second Division and we came up against First Division Coventry in the cup. We lost 3-2 at home.

Obviously David Cross and Paul Goddard will need some watching because they've been sticking the goals in.

But West Ham have to be worried about our own Steve Archibald and Garth Crooks.

There are going to be goals to be had in the game because we are two attack-minded sides, but a draw for us would have to be a good result.

I don't think for a minute we will be playing for the draw however. With the type of players we have in the side we can't go there and defend.

There was a time when West Ham relied heavily on Alan Devonshire and Trevor Brooking, but now they have all-round ability.

And at the end of the day we've got to beat Phil Parkes in the West Ham goal.

I regard Phil as a brilliant keeper.

Right: Garth Crooks of Spurs — he's one for West Ham to worry about, says Glenn.

HODDLE

WRITES FOR MATCH

Liverpool are always so well organised at the back.

To begin with you have to beat Ray Clemence in goal — obviously he's world class.

And the more I see of Alan Hansen the more I think what a fantastic player he is.

Up front of course they have Kenny Dalglish. There's no better striker in the country.

Whatever happens however it's going to be a marvellous occasion — the kind of match when you think to yourself 'this is the place to be.'

Glenn Hoddle

GLENN HODDLE (right) will be back in a fortnight's time. Meanwhile don't miss what Arsenal's Kenny Sansom has to say next week.

FERGUSON FIRES FOUR!

DATELINE: December 1, 1979 . . . Ipswich Town manager Bobby Robson lays down the gauntlet to Coventry striker Mick Ferguson . . . 'score a goal against us and I'll sign you'. Mick replies with four!

IPSWICH TOWN manager Bobby Robson's attempt to put Coventry City striker Mick Ferguson on the spot blew up in his face.

Mick replied to the manager's taunt by hammering four goals past the First Division strugglers in the 'Sky Blues' 4-1 win at Highfield Road.

"I think the Ipswich manager was trying to put me under a little pressure — but his plan worked the opposite way," said Mick.

Above left: Coventry's Mick Ferguson beats Ipswich defender Kevin Beattie to the ball.

"I really enjoyed the first goal. Kevin Beattie tried to control a cross from Steve Hunt on the edge of the box — but the ball fell loose and I whacked a fierce shot past the keeper with my right.

"The second was a close range effort after a scramble in the penalty area, but the third was quite special.

"Full-back Mick Coop started the move with a pass to me. I flicked it to Andy Blair, who found Steve Hunt on the left.

"He crossed the ball and I met it with a diving header.

"A misunderstanding between the Ipswich defenders and goalkeeper Paul Cooper set me up for my fourth — I just nipped in between them.

"I heard nothing after the match from Bobby Robson. I think he was too upset to talk to anybody," said Mick, who remained a Coventry player despite his magical display.

DATELINE November 28, 1979 . . . Frank Worthington of Bolton joins Second Division Birmingham City in a £150,000 deal.

DATELINE: December 4, 1976 . . . Brotherly love as Carlisle striker Frank Clarke misses a penalty conceded by his brother Derek of Orient.

DATELINE: December 6, 1976 . . . Bruce Rioch turns down a move to Everton, but Anderlecht striker Duncan McKenzie decides to join the Goodison Park club for £200,000.

DATELINE: December 6, 1977 . . . Terry McDermott scores his first hat-trick for Liverpool as the European Champions hammer Hamburg (and Kevin Keegan) 6-0 in the Super Cup. Kenny Dalglish, David Fairclough and Phil Thompson are the other scorers.

So cold — but Anderson warmed the fans

DATELINE: November 29, 1978 . . . Viv Anderson becomes the first black player to represent England . . . and sets up his country's winner!

ASK Nottingham Forest-defender Viv Anderson what he remembers of his debut for his country and he will tell you: "It was very cold!"

But the attacking right back is too modest to admit that it was he who helped set up England's only goal in their 1-0 win over Czechoslovakia at Wembley.

He started the move from defence which saw Tony Currie's cross hammered home by Man United's Steve Coppell.

"I was very nervous at first but the rest of the lads in the team were really great and made me feel at home," said Viv.

"England manager Ron Greenwood told me to go out there to enjoy myself and savour the occasion and that's just what I did — it was a tremendous experience.

"The call up was quite a shock because I did not really expect to make the England team so soon. At the time I was concentrating on staying in the Nottingham Forest team," added Viv — who has now made five appearances for his country.

Right: VIV ANDERSON of Nottingham Forest.

SINCE he joined Arnold Muhren in February 1979 to complete Ipswich Town's double dutch partnership, Frans Thijssen has made Bobby Robson the envy of many First Division managers with his unhurried, elegant skills.

Now the Holland World Cup schemer has joined MATCH WEEKLY to pass on his knowledge of the game to our readers in a three week series, which will concentrate on passing techniques.

"WHEN Arnold Muhren and I both played for Dutch side FC Twente Enschede, we loved to set up free-kicks in which Arnold ran past me, beside the 'wall', and I chipped my kick over it and into his path to score", says Frans.

"It worked many times but it is more successful at Ipswich either as a pass into space for George Burley's overlap down the right or to find our target men, Paul Mariner and Alan Brazil.

"Depending on how you strike the ball it can be played up to 40 yards with a smooth downward kick and follow through making sure you judge the pace of the long chip into space.

"The short high chip is a stabbing kick where the ball meets the turf and causes the ball to back spin into areas of tight space."

THE CHIP PASS

1 Head down as I approach the ball for the chip ...

2 ... making sure of a good contact with a sharp, stabbing kick ...

3 ... Leaning back slightly to allow the follow through as the ball gains height immediately.

KOP HOLD THE KEY

LIVERPOOL are not as good as side as many people try to make out.

One of the main reasons they have had so much success in recent years can be put down to the support they receive at Anfield.

The Kop do a tremendous job motivating Liverpool. I wonder what sort of results they would get in front of a mediocre 18,000 crowd every week.

Twice this season they have been beaten by lower teams and I think that the atmosphere at Bradford (1-0) and Leicester (2-0) upset them.

Geoffrey Kinch (13), Eaton, Norwich, Norfolk.

● OFF YOU GO! You get the red card. You Liverpool 'knockers' really make me angry.

You are just jealous that your own teams can't match their high standards.

OUTRAGED!

I'm Anthony Hawkswell and I'm in charge of the Outraged column.

I'll stand no nonsense... any back chat and you could get sent off!

I'll be giving the red card to what I judge to be the letter of the week. And yellow cards to any others published.

And to make it more interesting I'll pay £5 for the red card and £2 for each yellow card.

But be warned. I'm the ref and my decisions stand!

Send your letters to Outraged, Match Weekly, Midgate House, Midgate, Peterborough.

BOOKED!

I AM outraged at the amount of bookings handed out by referees recently.

I saw the recent Nottingham Forest — Southampton match and was amazed to see the ref hand out seven bookings and send off Saints defender Malcolm Waldron.

Only one of these offences was bookable. The referee over-reacted in each case.

I don't believe refs are physically fit enough to keep up with play.

Leeds lads for Scotland

I CANNOT understand why Scotland team boss Jock Stein persists in playing Andy Gray (Wolves) and John Robertson (Nottingham Forest) when there are players the class of Derek Parlane and Arthur Graham around.

I reckon that if the Leeds pair had played in the recent match against Portugal at Hampden Park then the Scots would have won 3-0 instead of drawing 0-0.

Petri Kukkonen, Valkeala, Finland.

● YOU'RE BOOKED! Robertson is the most exciting winger in Britain and Gray (who is currently injured) is one of the best strikers in the game.

Graham and Parlane are hardly setting the First Division alight.

THE MEETING of Football League chairmen which looked at ways to improve the game really set you thinking.

Here's a selection of views from readers on the ideas that have been put forward . . .

No goals — no points!

I HAVE come to the conclusion that teams should not get any points for a 0-0 draw.

There are bound to be people who will argue that you can get an entertaining 0-0 draw, but I believe teams winning and scoring goals is what thrills the crowds.

I believe that three points should be awarded for an away win, two points for a home victory, one point for a score draw and nothing for 0-0.

A bonus point for every goal scored over three would also encourage teams to give up their negative tactics.

Adrian Fleet, Wellington, Somerset.

Goof of the Week

TOP Spanish club Barcelona certainly got a bargain when they bought European Championship hero Bernd Schuster from Cologne.

According to this cutting, sent in by Greg Littlewood (12), of Woodborough, Notts, the Spaniards bought the star for just £1 — cheap at half the price!

SCHUSTER MOVES

Bernd Schuster, the West German international, was transferred from Cologne to Spanish club, Barcelona for £1

TV football

I AM angry at the amount of times the television companies cover Liverpool, Manchester United, Ipswich and West Brom.

I am getting really bored watching the same old faces week in week out.

It's about time they took a look at other less fashionable teams such as Stoke, Coventry or Middlesbrough.

Simon Howard, Stone, Staffs.

Reward the goal-getters

£10 WINNER

THE proposed three points for a win is a complete non-starter as far as encouraging attacking football is concerned.

It could have the opposite effect.

If two attacking teams take part in a classic match and draw 4-4 they will have played well all for one point.

Whereas if a team gets an early goal the incentive to defend it will be much greater if they know they are going to get three points for it.

If the system needs changing at all I suggest that the Football League give an extra point to teams scoring over three goals.

David Gearing, Huddersfield, West Yorks.

TERRACE TALK

'On yer bike Emlyn' ➡

I THINK Wolves defender Emlyn Hughes should consider giving up the game now.

The ex-Liverpool and England defender has lost a lot of his old skill and is not as fast as he used to be.

He cannot win the ball anymore and that makes him prone to commit more fouls.

Take a piece of advice Emlyn — retire while you are still respected.
John McCartney (13), Orford, Warrington, Cheshire.

Right: 'ON YER BIKE EMLYN' — says John McCartney, of Orford, Warrington.

Don't pick on Pike

I HAVE been a regular at Upton Park for the last few years and it makes me angry to hear criticism of West Ham's Geoff Pike.

Although he is small, he has plenty of skill and aggression and a terrific shot.

I think that in the next couple of years he will be in contention for a full England cap.

Mark Sach, Grays, Essex.

Only Arsenal and Forest are boring

THE Football League chairmen were looking at the wrong things when they discussed their ideas on improving the game.

I feel that the main thing keeping the fans away is the high cost of watching a Football League game nowadays.

I know clubs need money, but to charge around £5 to sit and watch football seems far too steep — fans can't afford to fork out that much week in and week out.

I do not believe there has been a drop in footballing standards — only Arsenal and Nottingham Forest can be classed as boring.

Michael Prenton, Woolton, Liverpool

Abolish offside

THE NEW plan to introduce three points for a win is a great idea and I believe it will help make the game more entertaining.

It will help encourage teams to play more open attacking football both home and away.

I believe that a good move would be for the football authorities to abolish the offside law — goals are what the game is about.

Mark Johnson (15), Bishop Auckland, Co. Durham.

Getting to grips with Swiss substitute Andre Egli during the World Cup qualifier at Wembley last week is England scorer Paul Mariner For match details see Match Facts.

PHIL NEAL

IF YOU would like to ask your favourite star a question then send it to Tackle a Star, Match Weekly, Midgate House, Midgate, Peterborough.

Players soon to appear in Tackle a Star are Bryan Robson (West Brom), Dennis Mortimer (Aston Villa), David Armstrong (Middlesbrough) and Garth Crooks (Spurs).

We'll pay £2 for every question published.

Tackle a Star

Tracy Harness,

from Lowestoft, Suffolk . . .

WHICH team did you support when you were a boy?
PHIL: West Ham were my favourite team Tracy, because I really enjoyed watching their open attacking style of football.

I could not go and see them so I watched them on the television. I especially admired their World Cup winning trio — Geoff Hurst, Martin Peters and Bobby Moore.

I used to go and watch my local team Northampton and they are still very near to my heart because they were the first team I played for.

Bobby Charlton was my favourite player because he was so exciting to watch. I was very lucky to play against him a couple of years back in Tommy Smith's testimonial game and I felt really honoured.

Caroline Sheldrith

from Kings Heath, Northampton . . .

WHAT is the most memorable match you have ever played in?

PHIL: I have played in many memorable games, Caroline, but the one that sticks out as really special was the night we won the European Cup in Rome on May 25, 1977.

We had just been beaten by Manchester United in the FA Cup Final but four days later we came back to win against Borussia Mönchengladbach.

I remember it not only because we won the European Cup for the first time but because of our tremendous fans who made the trip to Italy so soon after the disappointment of Wembley.

The Red Army were there in force and it was a great thrill to be with them.

I scored from the penalty spot near the end of the match which put the icing on the cake for me.

Arthur Cottam

of Wirral, Merseyside . . .

WHAT are your plans when you finally hang up your boots?

PHIL: I have just signed a four year contract at Anfield so that day is quite a way off but I would like to stay in the game in a coaching capacity.

I already do some coaching in the summer and that really appeals to me.

I would like to put something back into the game when I retire and coaching is a good way of doing it.

This week's 'Tackle a Star' guest Phil Neal is pictured here in action against Mark Falco of Spurs.

MAXINE BOOTH

from Sheerwater, Woking, Surrey . . .

WHAT do you have for your breakfast on match-day and what other sports do you enjoy?

PHIL: I room with goalkeeper Ray Clemence and it is up to me to order the breakfast. I usually have orange juice, tea, toast and cornflakes plus a couple of newspapers to read!

Golf, squash and swimming are my other favourite sports — I play off a 16 handicap in golf.

I took up golf when I played for Northampton Town and really enjoy the sport because it is so entirely different to soccer.

Paul Ede

of Uttoxeter, Staffs . . .

YOU have won many honours in the game but are there any others that you would still like to win?

PHIL: Well, Paul, I have still to win FA Cup and League Cup winners' medals — although I have appeared in both finals.

We lost to Manchester United in the FA Cup 2-1 in 1977 and to Nottingham Forest 1-0 after a replay at Old Trafford in the League Cup Final of 1977-78.

It would be great to get a World Cup winners' medal with England in Spain in 1982.

IAIN MUNRO

MAN OF MANY PARTS

IAIN Munro, Stoke's £160,000 bargain buy from St Mirren, is a remarkable man of many parts.

Having rejected the chance to join Coventry as a schoolboy, the 29-year-old Scottish international is now back in the Midlands following a chequered career as winger, midfielder and fullback with St Mirren (twice), Hibernian and Rangers — and enjoying every minute of it.

"Although I'm not yet satisfied with my form, I'm enjoying my midfield role and the chance to play with some talented youngsters at Stoke.

"Stoke have had some bad publicity from people who say we play defensively, but we don't go out to pack our defence.

"The team's strength is its defence and it is important, after the club survived its first year in Division One, that we consolidate our position this season.

"Then next year we'll have more confidence in attack," said Iain.

Qualified as a physical education teacher, Iain has a remarkable record of notching early goals for his new clubs, scoring for Hibernian in the Drybrough Cup in 1973, scoring for Rangers on his second outing in 1976 — against Hibs — and opening his account in his second spell with Saints with a goal against Ayr in his second appearance.

"I kept up the sequence with a debut goal for Stoke in our 2-1 win at Southampton," recalled a delighted Iain.

Did he feel overawed about starting a new career in the First Division?

"Not at all. I had talks with Lokeren of Belgium and Hercules of Alicante, Spain, before I agreed to join Stoke and I am convinced my experience will be a great help to the youngsters in the side.

"After all, I made my Scotland debut against Argentina. It was a tough baptism and I did well. So the First Division holds no fears for me."

Gow can make City bite back

GERRY GOW stepped into a different world when he signed for Manchester City.

"Everything at the club is so much bigger than I have been used to," said the tough Scottish player who has been bought by manager John Bond to add aggression in City's midfield.

"Bristol City is very much small-time compared to Maine Road — it took me a couple of games to get used to the new atmosphere.

"The crowds are so much bigger and the fans really get behind you — I have never experienced such support before," said Gerry.

The 28-year-old former Bristol skipper was Bond's third signing and followed the arrival of experienced duo Tommy Hutchison and Bobby McDonald from Coventry.

But the City fans must have questioned the decision to add Gow to the Maine Road staff after watching his first couple of games in the first team.

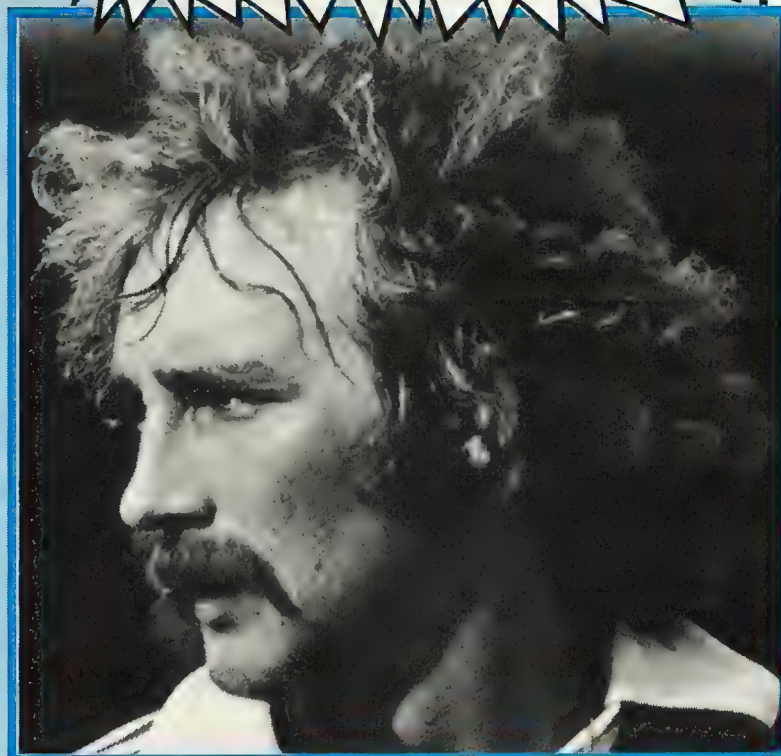

"Things did not exactly go well — I was trying too hard to impress the fans and as a result I was playing badly," said Gerry.

"The manager had a chat with me before our recent game against Southampton. He told me to go out and play my normal game. I did and turned in my best performance for the club and scored my first goal as we won 3-0.

"I know that the boss bought me for my tackling ability and to add more bite in the middle of the field.

"I will sit in midfield and let young Steve Mackenzie push up front."

MATCH writer Anthony Hawkswell talks to Maine Road's newest recruit Gerry Gow . . . a man with a "Tale of Two Cities".

Gerry is confident that Bond's blend of youth and experience can steer City away from the relegation area and help him win honours in the game.

"Former manager Malcolm Allison gathered a lot of good young players here, but he seemed to let them do whatever they wanted on the field.

"With the added experience John Bond has brought in I can see many of the youngsters here going on to be great players."

Robins too good to go down again

REFLECTING on eleven and a half years at Ashton Gate, Gerry Gow gave his troubled former club some words of encouragement.

"Bristol City won't go down again this season — they are far too good for the Third Division."

Gerry, who joined Manchester City in October for £175,000, added: "I really don't know what's gone wrong with them.

"Before the season began I thought Bristol had a great chance of bouncing straight back into the First Division, but things have turned out to be very different.

"I was sad to leave Ashton Gate because I enjoyed my stay there — I will miss the fans especially because I had a good relationship with them.

"I thought very seriously about the move, but the offer of a five year contract and another opportunity to play in the First Division was too good to turn down."

In fact the transfer came as quite a surprise for Gerry because just before the move he had talked about his future with new 'Robins' boss Bobby Houghton and was told that no player would be leaving for at least three months.

"John Bond's offer came out of the blue — but I know I won't regret my decision to move," added Gerry.

Our Europe dream

by Newport skipper KEITH OAKES

JUST three years ago little Newport County were struggling to stay afloat as a League club.

Now they are riding on the crest of a wave and preparing to battle it out with some of the best Europe can offer.

And Newport skipper Keith Oakes (pictured above) admits: "It's like a dream."

County's displays in the European Cup-Winners' Cup have earned them a place in the draw for the quarter-finals.

And next March will see them rubbing shoulders with the likes of Benfica, Feyenoord and last season's conquerors of Liverpool — Dynamo Tbilisi of Russia.

Added Keith: "None of the lads ever expected to get this far, but we are really enjoying the experience."

"To be fair we have been lucky in the draw so far."

"I was really surprised by the low standard of Crusaders (Ireland) and Haugar (Norway)."

Newport, promoted from the Fourth Division last season, beat Shrewsbury 4-0 on aggregate to win the Welsh Cup and qualify for the tournament.

And with the draw for the next round not taking place until January the players have a few anxious weeks before they know who their next opponents will be.

"From a financial point of view the club would like West Ham, but I know that the players want another trip abroad."

"Our progress in the competition has really caught the imagination of the town."

"It's great to have people stopping me in the street and talking about our progress.

"I never thought in my wildest dreams when I signed from Peterborough two years ago that I would be in Europe."

"It's just a tremendous experience for us and we are all loving it," added Keith.

FOOTNOTE: The other teams going into the draw for the quarter-finals of the Cup-Winners' Cup are: West Ham United; Dynamo Tbilisi (Russia); Fortuna Dusseldorf (West Germany); Feyenoord (Holland); Slavia Sofia (Bulgaria); Carl Zeiss Jena (East Germany); Benfica (Portugal).

From Iceland to

STARDOM

HERE'S a rare shot ... Clive Allen making one of only a handful of pre-season appearances for Arsenal before his swap deal to Crystal Palace. That's Jim Bett sliding in for the tackle. His eye-catching performances for Rangers made him runner-up in Match Weekly's October Matchman of the Month award for the Scottish Premier League.

NO PLAYER'S road to stardom could have followed a stranger route than the one which finally brought Jim Bett success with Rangers.

Jim, who celebrated his 21st birthday on Tuesday (November 25), reflected on how his career followed an almost nomadic lifestyle before he finally came to Ibrox from Belgian club Lokeren in August.

He recalled: "When I left Glenlee School near Hamilton several clubs, including Manchester City, Celtic and Leeds, were interested in me.

"But I decided to join Airdrie part-time because they were connected with the Gartcosh side I played with.

"I made my debut, scoring against Albion Rovers, but after eight or nine games I'd had enough.

"Running round the pitch twice a week wasn't my idea of training so I left.

"I decided to go to Iceland, where I'd been on tour with Gartcosh, and signed for their top team Valur.

"But because I had walked out after only serving six months of a four year contract, Airdrie had me suspended from playing.

pola600

-it's like playing real soccer!

All players can turn, tackle, dribble, pass and shoot.

The players move quickly up and down the pitch. The goalies move across the goal.

A simple geared system gives you close, accurate ball control.

Pola 600 is the best table soccer game you'll play. See it for yourself in toy and sports shops and department stores.

ibrox

After a 10 month suspension!

"I worked for 10 months in a factory — training at night — before I was finally allowed to play," said Jim, who was runner-up to Aberdeen's Alex McLeish in our Matchman of the Month awards.

"Then after just two games for Valur, Lokeren heard about me and I signed for them.

"I was there for two years playing with some great internationals, like the Pole Lubanski, Larssen from Denmark and Veerheyen and Mommens of Belgium.

"I learned a lot and gained great experience, but I was delighted when John Greig came in for me with a chance to return to Scotland."

It has been a roundabout route to stardom for the lad who made his international debut against Sweden Under 21.

Programme Guide

FOREST

If it's statistics you're after, then Nottingham Forest's match-day magazine is top class.

Facts — and plenty of 'em — are obviously a tried and tested formula with the Forest fans and credit to the club statistician for presenting them so well.

We noticed a high standard of match-by-match facts and figures and found both a Garry Birtles goals guide and team-by-team First Division success record fascinating.

A nice touch was the CURRENT record of each player on view that day.

Manager Brian Clough and secretary/treasurer Ken Smales have developed a neat line in light-hearted pre-match patter and the news was humorously written, too, with a slot for the world scene an added bonus.

The Club photographers make an attempt to go for the offbeat pictures as well as the goalmouth actions, though programme colour is a bit lifeless.

At 25p Forest fans can be well satisfied with the value for the programme — perhaps that makes up for the price they have to pay for their seats!
